HUMAN.

BOURNE-PETERSON.

To the Chronicle.

On Wednesday, at 1 o'clock, at the residence of the bride's father,

Mr. Chas. Bourne, a prosperous young farmer of the vicinity of Pea Ridge, led to the altar Miss Lucy, the lovely daughter of Mr. Burns

Peterson.

The high waters and stormy weather did not prevent the attendance of a large body of charming young ladies with their cavaliers.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Adams, after which a large gathering of relatives and friends sat down to such a bounteous feast as the well-known and generous hospitality of "Uncle Burns" and his "gude wife" is warrant for. Many a forlorn swain cast envious eyes at the gallant bridegroom, but it was too late, the lovely Lucy had been captured at last, and has gone to that Bourne from whence she will not likely care to return. May all happiness attend Charlie and his winsome bride.

M. B.

COWLES-HAW-STREET.

Married on the 12th inst., at the residence of Louis Gaiser, by S. A.

Caldwell, Esq., Miss Juanita Street to W. D. Cowlishaw, Jr., all of Montgomery county. The ceremony which united these two young hearts was a most impressive one.

Among those present were Judge

C. G. Smith, R. W. Bonch, Esq.,

Henry Pickering and a host of relatives, all of whom were profuse in their compliments to the bride, who is one of the fairest of her fair sex.

N.—

HUGHES-ELLIS.

An interesting marriage ceremony took place at the residence of Mr. Wm. Hughes on Yellow Creek, at 11 o'clock Sunday, when Mr.

Richard C. Hughes was joined in marriage to Miss Laura Ellis.

Esquire R. H. McFall performed the ceremony.

SLAUGHTER-WATTS.

Married, on Wednesday Feb. 6th 1884, at the residence of the bride's father, Lake City, Florida, Mr.

John H. Slaughter of St. Bethlehem Tennessee to Miss Eddie Belle

Watts daughter of Dr. D. A. Watts formerly of Paducah, Ky.

(Paducah papers please copy.)

Death of Mr. Theodor Jansen.

Mr. Theodor Jansen, a well known tobacco buyer of this city, died in his room in the Exchange building Sunday morning at an early hour. The cause of his death was acute bronchitis, and his illness was of short duration. He attended the sales at the tobacco board on the previous Thursday in apparent good health. He was thirty-eight years old. Mr. Jansen High Tribute to a Clarksville Man.

The following resolution was unanimously adopted at a meeting of the Board of Directors of the American National Bank of Nashville, held on the 6th inst:

Whereas, John W. Faxon, the treasurer of this bank, has been tendered an official position of higher grade in a banking institution situated in the neighboring State of Kentucky, the acceptance of which it would be ungracious in us to request him to decline, the Directors of the American National Bank, deeply regret the severance of relations which have been so pleasant, express our perfect satisfaction with the manner in which Mr.

Faxon has discharged his duties.

He has deservedly, during his short sojourn in this city, made many friends, he is a man worthy of official trust, qualities to the possession of which by him we are convinced that he will, with his congratulate our sister institution upon the acquisition of an officer who will, we are sure, worthily fill the position to which he has been elected.

Mr. Faxon, as already stated in the CHRONICLE, has accepted the position of Cashier of the Bank of Hopkinsville, Ky.

We published, a week or two since, a notice of an ancient marriage license, handed us by a gentleman who resides in this county.

The license was issued some time in the early part of the century in Granville county, N. C., and was signed "Stephen Sneed, Clerk." We expressed a conjecture that this Stephen Sneed was an ancestor of Judge J. L. T. Sneed, ex-Supreme

Judge of this State, and it turns out that we were right in the supposition. The Judge writes us: "The old gentleman referred to was my grandfather. He was made Clerk of the Court of Pleas and Quarter Sessions' soon after the war of the Revolution and held the office continuously until his death, about 1821. He was a soldier in the Revolutionary war, and was a man of rather rare industry and enterprise.

One of his daughters became the wife of Bishop Green, the venable Bishop of Mississippi and Chancellor of the University of the South.

The old 'prothonotary' left a good estate and gave each of his children a fair share of it, but transmitted to them but little of what Carlyle calls, the 'transcendent faculty' of taking care of what they had. * *

It was a coincidence that two of the old man's sons married daughters of two of the Chief Justices of North Carolina, Judges Henderson and Taylor, the latter my maternal grandfather." This was written in a private letter to the editor of the Cumberland River.

The river rose about six inches

Thursday night and was still rising slowly during Friday. Reports from above are more favorable and we look for the water to commence falling by Sunday. The cold weather had a tendency to check the rise.

Boats are having a great deal of trouble making landings along the river and all of them are behind.

We think but little damage has been done along the lower Cumberland as people commenced moving their stock early and boats have kept the corn pretty well cleaned up.

The Drouillard laid up at Nashville this week on account of high water in the Ohio. The Julien

Gracey has been going all the time, and making as many trips as possible. It has been impossible for her to make regular time, as she would stop where she could do the most good. The river is not so high by three or four feet as it was last year.

The Ohio Flood.

Dispatches from Cincinnati Thursday reported seventy-one feet of water in the Ohio river at that place, and the destructive flood still growing higher, though it was thought the climax would be reached by Friday morning. This is considerably higher than the mean of January 1882, and great distress and loss of property has been experienced. The following is among the dispatches of Thursday, and it is only a sample of similar accounts that come from all the towns along the river:

At Gallipolis, O., four miles below Mr. Pleasant, the like of the present sufferer before, has been
